550 Die In Fire In Single Year

DODGE IS LONGER, ROOMIER IN 1963

Passenger comfort, one of the pre-requisites of happy motoring, is assured by the longer wheelbase, and roomier interior of the Dodge for 1963 from Chrysler of Canada. The Dodge wheelbase has been increased from 116 to 119 inches, adding six inches to its overall length which provides added space in the front and back seats and the trunk. The 1963 Dodge also features improved body anti-corrosion dip, fuel system and engine lubrication improvements, an alternator as standard equipment, and longer-life exhaust systems. The Dodge for 1963 is all-new in design, combining styling leadership with full-sized family car convenience.

Flames Cost Canadian Citizens $127,000,000 In Property Loss

October 7 to 13 is Fire Prevention Week. This week is observed each year, in an attempt to educate our citizens in the ways of Fire Safety and thus cut down the annual toll in life and property.

That such education is necessary, is obvious from two facts: Fire in Canada in 1961, cost Canadian over $127,000,000 in property loss and over 550 lives, of which over 200 were children.

Learn all you can about fire safety and put what you learn into practice — every day!

Here are some pointers from the Canadian Underwriters' Association that you will find useful:

Care with matches and smoking should certainly rank top of the list. These familiar objects are not so innocent when it comes to fire. Do you know that, last year, they caused one out of every four fires in the nation?

Because smoking and matches are so treacherous from the standpoint of fire safety, care with them should be your first consideration. You know how a cigarette is put aside while the smoker goes to answer a call at the door, or to look for the television program guide. It's so easy to forget — and so dangerous. Sometimes at a party, a cigarette tips off the ashtray and down out of sight in the upholstery. It can smoulder there unnoticed for hours. Later — maybe after everybody's "safe in bed" — fire strikes the unguarded home.

Of course, you know people should never smoke in bed. But smoking is equally dangerous in an armchair if the smoker feels the least bit drowsy. He may doze off and if he is fortunate he may be awakened by flames or smoke. Too often, however, the dozing smoker is rendered unconscious before he awakens, and so becomes another fire fatality.

Now a word about matches — if only people wouldn't be so careless about them. So often they toss a match into a wastebasket. That's an invitation to big trouble. And too often matches and lighters are left where they'll intrigue children, instead of being placed safely out of reach of those innocent hands. Children playing with matches often cause fires, but it's the adults, not the children, who are really responsible for such fires.

There's no doubt that it's the adults who are responsible for bad housekeeping, which simply creates fire hazards by the dozens. We permit trash to accumulate in attics and basements. Old newspapers, clothes and upholstered furniture are left lying around the house. Instead of throwing it out, we leave this rubbish there — handy fuel for many a big fire. A little systematic cleaning up of such odds and ends would prevent this type of fire.

And in the kitchen too, this bad housekeeping menace often shows up. Grease is permitted to accumulate on stoves and pans, where it can burst into flame readily. Incidentally, it's a good idea to keep a long-handled fork handy should a pan catch fire, in that case the blaze can be quickly extinguished by lifting a lid with the fork and covering and smothering the flame.

Another great cause of fire — one in five fires in fact, according to the Canadian Underwriters' Association — is the misuse of electricity. Some people use too many extension cords from their outlets and easily overload the circuit. They put in fuses that are larger than the line was designed for. They run extension cords under carpeting and hang them over nails so the cords become frayed. Frayed wiring represents an open invitation to fire. If there is any doubt about the safety of the wiring in your home, call in a qualified electrician and have him check it out.

Even when the fire does break out, the toll in lives and property would often be reduced if people were familiar with the proper steps to take. Basically, they are simple steps. First: Get everybody out of PRETTY distraction. But wise men wouldn't let even a girl as attractive as Carol Balmer distract them from the dangers of fire. Fire Prevention Week is held across Canada from Oct. 7 to Oct. 13—to remind you to THINK ABOUT FIRE.

Chamber Of Commerce Stresses Monday As Town Closing Day

Chief topic of discussion at the monthly supper meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held in the York Hotel, was the Town's closing day.

The present day for closing of business places is Monday. However, several members complained that certain businesses were remaining open on Mondays and closing Thursday afternoons. This brought complaints from out of Town customers who think it strange that they cannot buy from the stores on Monday, cannot get mail Thursday afternoons, and cannot do banking on Saturdays, leaving only three days in the week that they can be sure of finding all businesses and offices open.

The Chamber felt it was time this situation was corrected, and a motion was passed instructing the Chamber executive to contact the Creamery, Liquor Store and Post Office asking that these places be kept open for business on Thursdays and close Mondays instead. The members present at the meeting were for the most part satisfied with Monday closing but felt that it should be unanimous.

Correspondence was read, and the secretary reported receiving further information by telephone, to the effect that a dentist will be coming to Lac la Biche for a period of two weeks under a plan being offered by the Dept. of Health.

The Lac la Biche Clinic has donated office space for this period and will be arranging for appointments. Dr. Cornish, who is an experienced and qualified dentist will be accepting appointments during the weeks of Oct. 15-27. The Chamber voted to sponsor the Dental program.

In commenting on the subject, one of the local doctors present at the meeting said he felt certain, from information in his possession, that a dentist would be permanently established in the town within a year..

Correspondence also showed that due to the efforts of the Chamber, a telephone pay station is to be located at Beaver Lake.

Fourteen members were present for the meeting. The President, Harry Lobay presided.

Health Unit Nurses Meet Resusci-Anne

LAC LA BICHE — R. Ford, class organizer for St. John's Ambulance Corps, Edmonton, visited the local health unit last week. The purpose of his visit was to introduce the nurses of the health unit to Resusci-Anne, a life-size mannequin and to instruct the nurses in a refresher course.

Resusci-Anne, a plastic life-size doll was made in Norway and is used as a patient on which to practice mouth-to-mouth breathing. The mannequin is constructed with inflatable lungs ,life-like mouth and breathing apparatus. Mr. Ford, on behalf of St. John's Ambulance Corps, is anxious to organize classes in home nursing, child care and artificial respiration.

All medical doctors are qualified to act as instructors for these different courses and Lac al Biche is fortunate in having two health unit nurses, Miss V. Stan and Miss Audrey Branson, and also Sister Zenaide of St. Catherine's hospital as qualified instructors.

The mannequin will be available for a week to any group being taught by a qualified instructor or doctor. All instructors teach the classes without pay. The courses run from eight to ten weeks. St. John's Ambulance Corps also has several excellent 10-minute films available.

In explaining the courses, Mr. Ford said it is desirable to have some responsible local organization sponsor the courses and that the best method of training is to use a life-size mannequin.

Mr. Ford hopes that the people of Lac la Biche will take advantage of these courses and be prepared to preserve life and render first aid if the need arises.

Unforgettable Father McGrane

By JACK DEAKIN
in The Edmonton Journal

Had a dull working day in the office brightened this week when the rotund, smiling-faced personage of Rev. J. E. McGrane hove in sight through our newsroom door.

Before studying for the priesthood Father McGrane was a working newspaperman around Saskatoon, and I'll wager a good one. He will be remembered with appreciable reverence among seamen across Canada, having been a sea-going chaplain during World War Two.

His love for ships and the sea has never diminished. In fact his nautical instincts have been whetted since he sailed with the Canadian Navy in World War Two. This friendly, quick-witted man, whose energies know no bounds, is still a familiar figure around HMCS Nonsuch in Edmonton or wherever ships and the sea are discussed.

I first met Father McGrane at Lac La Biche in northeastern Alberta. He and his cadets were officially launching the good ship Exeter II, training vessel for the Lac La Biche cadets. At that time, and for years to follow, Father McGrane and Lac La Biche could rightfully boast having one of the best-drilled sea cadet groups in Canada.

FATHER, CADETS SUCCESSFUL

Few, if any, commanders have had greater success with sea cadets than has had Father McGrane. I remember once when his cadets were taking tests in Edmonton one of the boys failed to pass. That night the boy burned the midnight oil studying his signals. Next day the lad scored a perfect 100 per cent mark and the smile returned to Father McGrane's face.

To emphasize the energies of this man of the cloth is to tell of some of his accomplishments while parish priest at Lac La Biche. At one time he operated the town's show and published a weekly newspaper along with other community duties. There was a request that he be a candidate for the office of mayor of the town, but this was turned down by the father who stated "I do have some work to do as parish priest."

Father McGrane and his cadets caused quite a stir when they attempted to sail Exeter I down the North Saskatchewan River. All went well until near Fort Saskatchewan when the good ship went aground on a sandbar.

Seeking help Father McGrane, early in the morning, pounded on the door of the farm home of Lord Rodney, a prominent farmer of the district, to announce startingly to his lordship that there had been a shipwreck on the river and could the father use a telephone.

Undefeatable Father McGrane later, with the help of an experienced ship builder of the Lac La Biche district and his cadets, built a new boat, the Exeter II. The launching of the new craft was a memorable day. Top brass of the navy and the navy league attended.

But prior to the official launching Father McGrane and I took the ship out for a test run. I was to man the engine and the father was at the wheel. We almost crashed on the huge pier at Lac La Biche because I didn't know how to get the engine out of gear. Father McGrane did a masterful job at the wheel. We missed the pier by inches.

An unforgettable journey during Father McGrane's stay at Lac la Biche and his association with sea cadets was his trip to Ireland, England and France. The father had saved some money for a holiday to Ireland where he planned to visit his mother.

But to go alone seemed wasteful to the father. Being a top flight promoter he saw the possibility of taking at least four of his cadets with him and, of course, the good ship Exeter II. Members of the Lac La Biche mothers' league of the cadet corp, the navy league and others pitched in and necessary funds were raised.

Father McGrane selected four cadets who had earned such a trip, loaded the training vessel on a rail way flat car and transported it to Montreal. The Exeter was then stowed in the hold of an ocean-going liner and taken to the shores of England.

Father McGrane, ship Exeter and the four cadets sailed and explored the Thames Estuary and also sailed the English Channel to France and toured that coastline. The Exeter was transported back to Canada the same way it was taken overseas.

As often happens to parish priests, the bishop moved Father McGrane out of Lac La Biche to continue His work where His services were more necessary. The good father moved to Calmar, built a new church at Devon and then moved to Edmonton where he continued to build churches

But it will be many years, if ever, before the memory of Father McGrane will die with the people of Lac La Biche.

A subsidy never threatens the moral fibre of business men even it wrecks that of farmers and old people.

He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Ann Kuchera, Smoky Lake; Mrs. Eva Anderson, Flin Flon, Man.; and Mrs. Katherine Lazaryk, Edmonton, and three brothers, Nick Wells, B.C.; John and Prokip of Vancouver, his mother, of Smoky Lake, who is 87 years of age, 41 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

Mr., Mrs. M. Trefenanko Honored On Silver Wedding Anniversary

WANDERING RIVER — Memories of Nov. 21, 1937, were renewed for Mr. and Mrs. Metro Trefenanko on Oct. 6 when they celebrated their silver wedding anniversary. A dance was staged at the Wandering River hall to commemorate the occasion. The Trefenankos were married in the district, took up farming and have remained here since.

Two of the best men living in nearby districts were able to be present, Humphrey Senetza of Lac la Biche and John Zanoc of Charron.

The hall was beautifully decorated with a large "25" done in silver tinsel centreing the stage with bells and streamers of blue, pink and white throughout. Appropriate music was supplied by an orchestra from Craigend.

Mr. Senitza addressed the 75 guests as master of ceremonies, recalling the changes and advancements within the past 25 years of which the couple were part. A chest of silverware was presented from the friends present. Other gifts were also received.

Relatives present from Andrew were cousins Nick Trefenanko, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Papleau and an uncle Tom Trefenanko. Parents of Mrs. Trefenanko Mr. and Mrs. Nick Watamaniuk of Lac la Biche were also present.

The Trefenankos have six children Gladys, Mrs. Orest Beraska, of Lac la Biche and at home are Gordon, Roy, Patsy and twins Susan and Sally.

Alberta Students Receive Bursaries

The Provincial Command of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion recently announced the awarding of 28 bursaries of $100 each to grade 12 students to help them continue their education.

In presenting the awards the president, officers and executive council of the Command expressed thanks to all auxiliary branches who contributed to the fund. In 1959 a total of 19 awards were presented; 1960 there were 20 awards and in 1961 a total of 21 awards.

Of the 28 recipients, 24 will attend universities, three will enter schools of nursing and one will attend a business college. These bursaries are awarded to children of veterans. Seventy-eight applications were received and 68 were reviewed by the Bursary Award Committee.

Bursary winners include, the University of Alberta, Edmonton: Gloria J. Semeniuk, Boyle; Raymond Limoges, McLennan; Rooney J. Anderson, Edson; Neil S. Angerman, Evansburg; Thomas E. Sakaluk, Vegreville; Arthur J. Collier, Jasper; John C. Yuill, Barrhead; Beverley R. Robinson, Devon; Carole D. Waksel, Barrhead. Catherine E. Zinger of Castor will enter a School of Nursing in Edmonton. Irene F. Cragg of Bashaw will attend a business college in Edmonton.

the house! Then: Call the fire department! Delay on either of these moves has often proved costly.

The best way to save lives in case of fire say the "Underwriters" is to have an escape plan already worked out. Fire strikes without warning and it tends to breed panic, unless people are disciplined to proceed from any part of the house to the nearest and safest exit. And to do this, they must know the way in advance. So don't delay setting up an escape plan in your house. Here's how it is done:

Figure out two possible escape routes to the ground from any upstairs room. This way, if one of the routes is cut off by fire, you will have an alternate exit. Every member of the family — and also visitors and babysitters — should be familiar with the escape routes. Remember, this is the way to save lives!

Suppose one night you are awakened by the smell of smoke. Don't dash to open the door to your bedroom. First, place your hand against the door. If it feels hot, it may mean that flame and hot or poisonous gases are already nearing the door.

If the door does not feel hot, brace the door with your foot while you open it slightly. Keep your head away from the opening. If the hallway seems to be cool and there are no flames or smoke pouring up the stairway, you may be able to use it as an escape route. However, if there is any question about safe passage, close the bedroom door, go to the window, and call for help. If there is a phone in the room, use it to call the fire department. Do not jump except as a last resort; you may injure yourself needlessly.

If it becomes necessary to jump, first drop bedding and pillows, or anything else soft, to the ground to cushion your landing. Then, carefully lower yourself from the window sill to reduce the distance to the ground, and drop onto the cushioning.

People should never leave children alone in a house. When they go out they should be sure the babysitter knows that in an emergency she should get the children out first, then call the fire department, and then notify the parents. Before leaving for their evening out, they should caution the babysitter against letting the children play with matches or electrical appliances; tell her to keep the children away from the kitchen, if possible, and instruct her to look in on the children regularly to be sure everything is all right.

Fire damage to lives and property can be reduced by simple precautions. But each and every one of us must assume a share of the responsibility for fire safety if we are to put an end to this senseless suffering and waste. This week — Fire Prevention Week — is a good time to start.

your best capacity buy --
The John Deere Low-Line 65 Combine gives you
10 per cent more capacity
for your money

Big capacity per dollar invested has always put the 65 Combine at the top of the pull-type combine list. Now, with larger separating and cleaning units, the Low-Line 65 has 10 per cent more capacity. It's more than ever your best capacity buy.

New low lines mean the 65 is easier to store. It's only 9 feet 3 inches high—stores in most machine sheds with ease. And, there's a fold-back unloading auger to reduce width.

You get such well-known advantages in the Low-Line 65 as a double-ram hydraulic platform . . . positive auger and steel conveyor feeding . . . 90 per cent separation in the cylinder area . . . easy-to-make outside adjustments . . . and high-grade sealed bearings at every major wear point. All these features added to the many new advantages truly make the Low-Line 65 today's most up-to-date combine in its class.

Come in and let us show you the new Low-Line 65 Combine with PTO or engine drive the next time you're in town. Our credit plan makes ownership easy.

Illegal Fish Trafficking Exposed

Everyone has heard of rum-runners and dope peddlers but something new was discovered here recently when the local police detected illegal trafficking in fish. While on patrol, Const. Farus noticed slime oozing from the bottom of an innocent looking gasoline barrel in the back of a truck. On investigation he discovered the barrel had a door near the bottom and contained illegally caught fish which were being sold for mink food. The top was the same as any ordinary oil barrel. The case was turned over to the Fish and Game branch who prosecuted the offenders.

Fly To Plamondon From Fort Smith

Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Plamondon and Miss Albertine Plamondon chartered a plane from Fort Smith to visit their parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Plamondon for the Thanksgiving weekend.

They left Fort Smith shortly after breakfast, stopped off at McMurray, circled over Avenir and Plamondon and landed at Lac La Biche Airport. They arrived in time to have dinner at the Pelicon Hotel.

The owner and pilot of the plane is Mr. S. Philips.

CLOSE DOOR TO FIRE OPEN TO PREVENTION

Close your door to fire, but keep it open for fire prevention. This neatly describes the philosophy of Canada's campaign for greater fire safety in the home, on the job, and everywhere.

Close your door to fire. In plants, office buildings, stairwells, fire doors must be kept closed. Why! To shut off live air (oxygen) from fueling a fire. In the nome, try to sleep with bedroom door closed. To open it in panic, fans the flames.

Open your door to fire prevention. Don't "slam it" in the fire fighter's face if he shows up suggesting a look-around for possible hazards. Shame (over an untidy house), fear (of consequences), ignorance (of what it's all about)—forget these things, if you have an ounce of commonsense.

Canadian Girl Finds 'True Love'

SINGAPORE — Canadian school teacher Sarah de Vloo, 23, told a reporter here she had found her "true love" in Ceylon even though she was "kicked out" of the country before her visa expired.

The pretty Canadian arrived here aboard the liner Cambodge on her way to Hong Kong after leaving Ceylon.

Perched on the arm of a ship's deck chair she told reporters:

"I ran into a den of wolves" (in Ceylon).

The tall brunette from Bow Island added: "I was kicked out of Ceylon because I resisted loathsome, immoral, persistent advances by a member of parliament and some other government officials.

"The wolves did not get me. I got something . . . I found my true love in Ceylon."

Miss de Vloo added: "I found him at a Canadian embassy party. He is a Ceylonese businessman. We love each other so.

"No definite wedding plans yet," she said. "The future is cloudy for both of us but we will meet again."

Miss de Vloo passed through Singapore with her friend Alice Sorochan of Lac la Biche last April on a round-the-world trip. At that time she said she was looking for a "Mr. Right in my travels. I've got wedding bells in mind."

THE Homemaker

By B. M. McCUTCHEON, District Home Economist, Westlock

Floors, walls and ceilings are basic background elements in a decorating scheme. They should provide a foundation for home furnishings. They must subtly enhance these furnishings, but never seriously compete with them. They may provide interest in color, pattern and texture, but must primarily unite the furniture, draperies and accessories.

B. McCutcheon

Too many people do choose floor, counter and wall materials without any thought of what they hope to include in the way of upholstered forniture, kitchen suite or draperies. the importance of an overall plan cannot be overemphasized.

When choosing a countertopping, consider how well it will match the floor finish, the finish of a new or existing tabletop and chair upholstery—consider how well it will enhance the natural or painted cupboards you hope to include and above all consider whether it will blend well with the colors you hope to use throughout your home. Decisions re kitchen materials must often be made early in the project and must be carefully considered. The choice of red pearl topping can permanently spoil a scheme based on beige, brown, and pink orange or yellow.

When choosing a natural panelling for the living or dining areas, question whether you will wish to repeat the same wood in occasional tables and kitchen cupboards. It is both economically and aesthetically wise to use the same wood throughout a home, the same countertopping in the kitchen and bath areas and again the same flooring material or color throughout your home.

Avoid the extreme; choose simple, subtle color and pattern. Neutral colors provide an excellent basis for any type of scheme. Do not choose a color or materials because your neighbor has done so. Decide whether it belongs with your home, your family and your furnishings. In other words, be an individual in your selection even if it requires more time spent on the overall planning.

FLOORINGS—Floorings are literally a basis for homes. They must be durable, easy to maintain and pleasant to look at. Kitchen and bathroom floorings must resist water and grease, heavy traffic areas must withstand wear and tear and living areas should absorb sound.

We are all aware that our flooring takes the greatest amount of abuse and should plan to invest in quality materials wherever possible. The expense and effort of application must be considered in the overall economy picture. In addition, the cost and effort of difficult maintenance must be allowed for.

When selecting a floor color remember that the area to be covered, with the exception of the walls, is the largest single area of color in your home. In addition, it is a relatively permanent installation. If you prefer strong color, be sure to choose one you know you will not tire of.. If your preferences are changeable choose one of the neutral shades which "go with practically everything". Beiges, greys, white and some of the greyed golds are excellent.

Remember that medium tones do not show soil marks, footprints and such nearly as much as lighter or deeper tones. Tweeds, stylized patterns and textures are also good as camouflage.

HARD SURFACED MATERIALS—We may include in this classification all varieties of linoleum and vinyl floorings sold in six, nine and twelve foot widths, plus the many types of floor tile available, plus traditional wood floorings.

The popularity of sheet goods has increased due to the outstanding color and pattern range now available. Many of the designs are equally appropriate in any room of the home and adapt beautifully to the overall treatment. Though slightly more expensive to install, the resulting seam-free appearance is most desirable.

Tiles are available in wood, vinyl, cork, ceramic, rubber, vinyl-asbestos, asphalt and linoleum. They are light and easy to handle, but tend to lend a regimented, commercial appearance to the home. Slight irregularities in the tile itself necessitate applying it in an alternating pattern.

There has been a decrease in the popularity of wood floorings due to the heavy maintenance required. However, current experimentation in the improvement of plastic finishes suggests a more optimistic future for the material. Both hardwoods (oak, maple, birch) and softwood (egde-grain fir) are used. Needless to say the hardwood provide a superior floorings.

MR. AND MRS. IGOR LOZYNSKY

Sylvia Komarnisky, Igor Lozynsky Seal Wedding Vows With 2 Rings

HOLDEN — The Holy Ghost Catholic Church, Holden was the scene of the marriage of Miss Sylvia Komarnisky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Komarnisky of Holden, and Mr. Igor B. Lozynsky. He is the son of Rev. Father B. Lozynsky and Mrs. Lozynsky of Holden.

Rev. Father D. Bazuik performed the double-ring ceremony attended by the groom's father Rev. Father B. Lozynsky.

Escorted by her father, the bride chose a white nylon organza over satin gown trimmed at the neckline and waistline with Venetian cut appliqued lace and featured a butterfly bustle. Her four-tier bouffant veil fell from a rhinestone and pearl tiara and she carried deep red sweet-heart roses with stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Miss Gloria Komarnisky of North Hollywood, Calif., served as maid of honor. Her pale aqua peau-de-soie dress was a sheath and she wore a matching bow headdress. Her flowers were yellow centred white chrysanthemums.

Miss Shirley Harris, Miss Irene Sosnowski and Miss Kristine Komarnisky were bridesmaids. They wore full skirted dresses of aqua georgette with peau-de-soie boleros. Their headdresses were matching bows and they carried yellow centred white chrysanthemums.

Debbie Komarnisky, of Vancouver, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Debbie was charming in a white nylon full skirted frock with aqua bow headdress. She carried a basket of aqua chrysanthemums.

Mr. Pius Coleman of Red Deer was best man. Mr. Don Fraser of Red Deer, Mr. Morley Lee of Hanna and Mr. Boris Lozynsky, brother of the groom, attended the groom.

Mr. Jerry Lozynsky and Mr. Orest Lozynsky twin brothers of the groom were ushers.

About 600 guests attended the reception at the Holden Community Hall. Mr. Alec Mazurek, uncle and godfather of the bride, proposed the toast. Mr. William Ogrodnick was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Komarnisky received wearing a peacock green silk print dress. Her hat was an original model of peacock green peau-de-soie trimmed with large yellow roses. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mrs. Lozynsky also received. She wore a beige dress with bone accessories and a mint green handmade hat .Her corsage was of deep gold roses.

On their return from a wedding trip to the west coast, Mr. and Mrs. Lozynsky went to Red Deer, where they will reside.

Richard Lalonde Awarded Bursary At Bonnyville

Richard David Lalonde son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lalonde of Bonnyville who was awarded a fifty dollar bursary by the Bonnyville Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion at graduation and awards ceremonies recently. The bursary is presented annually to the Grade IX student in Bonnyville town schools who attains the highest average in the Grade IX departmental examinations. This year it was necessary to write to the department to obtain the name of the winner as four students had obtained identical gradings, but statistical marks retained at the examintions branch revealed Richard to be the winner. Students who lost out by a small margin were Peter Klimuck of Duclos School, Wayne Kowalski and Juliette Vallee of Bonnyville School.

Richard was born in Saskatchewan but came with his parents to Bonnyville in 1953 where he has taken all his schooling. His teacher in Grade IX was Mrs. I. Baril who has seen many of her pupils win acclaim in the years that she has taught in Bonnyville.

Farmers Study Moisture Content Of New Grain

VILNA — Farm conversation in this bland fall weather is centered around moisture content of grain. The moisture content has to be right or elevators will not take the grain, because it will heat; and if wet enough it can burst into flames in spontaneous combustion.

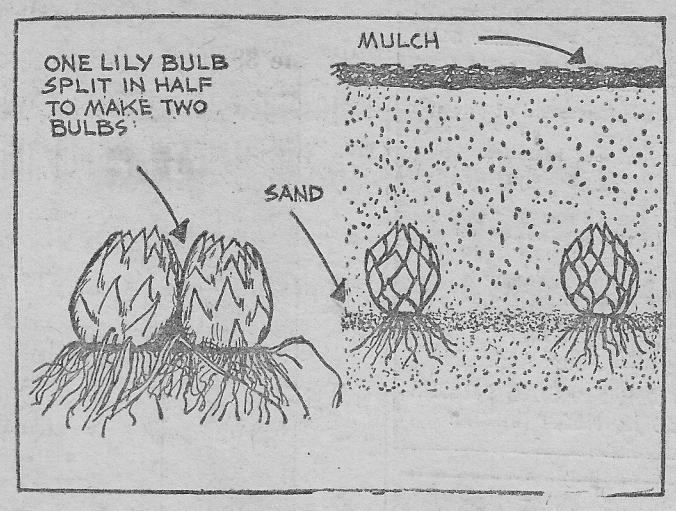
George Balash of Spedden brought a hand-rubbed sample to the elevator Wednesday of last week and it tested 16½ per cent moisture. The grain buyer advised waiting until the test was 14 per cent. With the continued good weather, this mark has been reached and threshers are humming around the clock.

The farm implement dealers have managed to dispose of their machines quickly in the last several days. The fine weather and the promise of at least No. 3 Northern for wheat has apparently raised the farmers' hopes to where an investment was justified.

Combines are selling in spite of the almost general stook threshing decision of many farmers. Farmers pinned their hopes on stooks weathering wet weather better than swaths. Two weeks of brilliant fall weather may put a new light on the problem.

Human being are naturally curious about affairs that do not concern them.

Garden Graph



Dividing Lilies

Many gardeners will divide perennials without a qualm, but are fearful of digging up and separating lilies.

As a rule, lilies, once planted, can be left undisturbed for from three to five years. This depends, of course, upon how crowded they ultimately become. In fact, they can be left undisturbed for as long as they grow vigorously and bloom abundantly

Nearly all lilies can be separated in late September and October, with the exception of the Madonna and Nankeen lilies. They require earlier separating, usually in August.

Lilies frequently divide naturally by splitting in half to form two bulbs, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Other small bulblets often form about the "mother" bulb. The bulblets can easily be pulled or cut away from the old bulb. They should be replanted at once before they dry out.

When bulb divisions are taken from an established lily plant, use care not to disturb the old bulb any more than necessary. After excavating the soil around the bulb, use a sharp knife to cut away bulblets or a division of the bulb. Dust the wounds with a fungicide. Replace the soil around the old bulb as quickly as possible.

Lilies, as shown, appreciate a winter mulch. Put a winter mulch over them after the ground freezes, such as straw, hay, partly rotted leaves, anything except material which packs down too much.

Resembling a medieval castle wall, this 50-foot high viaduct is part of a water conservation project in Lienkiang, Kweichow province, Communist China. Built in 1952, the project reportedly can irrigate with water more than 4,000 acres of farmland.

Oldtimers Visit Boyle Community

Considerable reminiscing of pioneer days in the Boyle district was done among old timers here recently when William Cheeseman of Vernon, B.C., accompanied by Mrs. Mary Hall, returned to visit and renew old friendships.

Mr. Cheeseman came here in 1912 and homesteaded the S.W. ¼-2-65-20-W4 until he sold out in 1916 and went to British Columbia.

After an absence of 45 years he found many changes and improvements. Through the courtesy of their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Walker, they were able to visit the few remaining landmarks. Among these was St. Mark's Church, Plum Lake, which Mr. Cheeseman helped to build.

Another pioneer to visit in the Boyle district after an absence of 40 years was Mrs. O. M. Morrow of Edmonton, nee Opal Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Derek King, nee Betty Robinson, and daughter Laura of Chilliwack, B.C., recently spent a day in the district visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fedec and children from Kindersley, Sask., visited Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fedec Sr. and friends in the district.

90 Imperial scientists and technicians pose for their pictures in the ultramodern wing of Imperial's research laboratories at Sarnia. Not shown: another 115 members of the Sarnia research staff, and another 130 who work in Imperial laboratories at Calgary.

90% of all oil company product research in Canada is done by Imperial

At Sarnia, Ontario, and Calgary, Alberta, Imperial operates the largest petroleum research laboratories in Canada. At Sarnia, the company's scientists and technicians are working to improve present products and to develop new ones. Their research covers many fields, from gasolines to household detergents. At Calgary, Imperial research personnel are exploring means to find and produce more Canadian crude oil and natural gas. Imperial does more research than all other oil companies in Canada combined.
